Sergeant Marsh and Eirene Leventis

Naperville Police Department Crisis Intervention

Sergeant Brad Marsh has been a member of the Naperville Police Department for 23 years. He has overseen the Youth and Social Services Unit for the past 5 years. Sergeant Marsh is a member of the core development team of the Crisis Intervention Team. As the supervisor of the social services unit, he works with staff to develop creative and effective plans to support residents with a mental illness who are in crisis.

Eirene Leventis is a Licensed Clinical Professional Counselor with the Naperville Police Department for the past two years. She has worked in other settings primarily doing crisis work with other police departments, the DuPage County Health Department, and a local domestic violence and sexual assault agency. Eirene is a member of the core development team, and works closely with management staff, officers, and various community agencies to ensure that the Naperville Police Department CIT program is set up for success.
