

Surviving Domestic Violence: The Role of Creative Therapeutic Relationships in Healing

My name is Leslie and I work at the Center for Creative Arts Therapy in Downers Grove. I just wanted to reach out to you and let you know of a professional development opportunity coming up in January that might be appropriate for the staff at People's Resource Center. The workshop is called Surviving Domestic Violence: The Role of Creative Therapeutic Relationships in Healing. It will be Friday, January 5th, 2018 from 9AM-4:30PM. There are 6 CEUs Available and the cost is $150. A 20% group discount is also available if 4 or more employees from the same workplace want to attend.

This training focuses on building individual and relational safety with survivors of domestic violence through an embodied, creative therapeutic relationship. Our Creative CEUs are known for being engaging and interactive, while providing professionals from a variety of backgrounds with impactful information and the continuing education they need.

For more information and to register for the training, please visit www.c4creativeartstherapy.com/ce-classes-and-workshops<<http://www.c4creativeartstherapy.com/ce-classes-and-workshops>>

If you could spread the word to any employees that might be interested in this one-day workshop, it would be greatly appreciated! If you or anyone else has any questions or would like the group discount, please don't hesitate to contact me at LKane@c4creativeartstherapy.com.

If you know of any other organizations that might benefit from this training, feel free to forward on this information or let me know and I can get in touch with them!

Thank you so much! Have a wonderful day!
