

AGE IS AN ASSET;
EXPERIENCE, A BENEFIT.

The Senior Community Service Employment Program (SCSEP) is a paid job-training program that provides a bridge to employment for mature workers. Partner community service agencies provide supportive, real work settings that help mature workers transition into employment. The program covers the costs of training by paying a stipend to the trainee.

The Senior Community Service Employment Program is funded by a U.S. Department of Labor Grant administered by National Able Network, Inc. We follow the principles of Equal Employment Opportunity in all aspects of employment, including recruitment and hiring, compensation, benefits, training, promotion, discipline, and all other terms and conditions of employment. It is the intent of Able to follow the letter and spirit of local, state, and federal laws governing Equal Employment Opportunity. Auxiliary aids and services are available upon request to individuals with disabilities.

INTERESTED IN TRAINING?

How do I know if I'm qualified?

You qualify for the program if you:

- are age 55 or older
- live within federal low-income guidelines
- are willing to improve your job skills and learn new ones

What will the program do for me?

Through this job-training program, you will:

- receive interviewing and job-search assistance
- obtain computer and vocational training to update and build new skills
- earn while you learn working at an agency near your home
- gain access to employers who want to hire experienced workers

Where do I go to enroll in the program?

Contact National Able Network, Inc. (Able), to see if you qualify for the program.

INTERESTED IN BEING A PARTNER AGENCY/TRAINING SITE?

Training sites are partnered community service agencies

Mature workers do much of their training through meaningful positions with community service agencies. These nonprofit and government service agencies are dedicated to providing training to build real-world skills while the work provided by the trainee directly benefits the community.

Many training sites hire their trainee after training is completed. Other benefits to the community and training site include:

- additional services to the community that would otherwise be too costly
- development of skilled workers for both community service agencies and for-profit companies
- training that improves a senior's life in profound ways
- enhancement of America's ever-growing mature workforce

INTERESTED IN HIRING A MATURE WORKER?

SCSEP participants train in a wide variety of job skills that include every aspect of office support as well as areas that might surprise you. If you are interested in hiring staff, please consider contacting National Able Network to see if we have trained workers that will meet your needs.

Benefits for employers include:

- Nonprofit employers: train-to-hire participants for extended periods
- For-profit employers: train-to-hire participants on-site in the actual job while cost sharing wages for a limited time
- Hire prescreened, trained, and job-ready workers with demonstrated real-world proficiencies
- Dependable, responsible, adaptable, and competent new hires

For an Able location near you, please see the back page of this brochure.
