FACILITATOR

PAUL KRYSIK

Paul Krysik is a Chicago native who graduated from Curie High School. While studying at Oberlin College, he began working and studying in agriculture in 2011. In early 2015, Paul returned home and worked at the Chicago Botanic Garden from 2015 to 2023. Since then, he has worked in multiple positions, training workforce development participants and leading staff to become trainers. Currently, Paul manages a farm in Sauk Village with Just Roots Chicago and works with community members, teaching them about agriculture. Paul currently lives in North Lawndale with his partner, a special education teacher with the Chicago Public Schools. He likes to spend his time hiking, cooking, weight lifting, gardening, practicing martial arts, and exploring the Chicagoland area.

Our Mission

Together with community and institutional leaders, Chicago Jobs Council is re-imagining our workforce system so all people can thrive through employment.

Our Vision

Our vision is to create an anti-racist workforce development system and employment equity so that everyone can realize their unique pathway out of poverty.
