Every worker. Every industry. A strong economy.

Five days of policy scans! Day two: job-driven financial aid

NSC's brand new Job-Driven Financial Aid Policy Scan finds that twenty-three states and the District of Columbia provide financial aid to part-time students and those in middle-skill training programs. Is your state one?

The scan is designed to work together with NSC's Job-Driven Financial Aid Policy Toolkit – it's a playbook for policymakers and advocates who want to bridge financial aid gap in their states.

Are our policy scans useful to you? Consider making a year-end tax deductible donation to National Skills Coalition. Thanks for your support!
