

NATIONAL SKILLS COALITION

Every worker. Every industry. A strong economy.

What's the 2018 Skills Summit Missing?

The Skills Summit is missing YOU! 2018 is shaping up to be a tipping point for skills policy. In the last year, your efforts are responsible for the development of the PARTNERS Act, the JOBS Act, and the BUILDS Act – all bipartisan pieces of policy that are teed up to change the dynamic between educational opportunity and the labor market in America. This year's Skills Summit, coming up on February 6-8, will set state delegations up to make the most of their time on the Hill by breaking down all of the policy opportunities to promote skills — including short-term Pell, career pathways, industry partnerships, and data transparency. An updated agenda can be found here.

This is our biggest push yet in a political moment that begs for bipartisan legislation that works. If you've been on the fence, join your state delegation at the Skills Summit this year and share your expertise with legislators while their ears are perked. You can register for the Summit here and reserve a room on our reduced rate hotel block here. The hotel block closes tomorrow, January 12th.

Sincerely,

Jessie Hogg Leslie
National Network Director
