

NATIONAL SKILLS COALITION

Every worker. Every industry. A strong economy.

Save the date! Join us for the 2018 Skills Summit

Save the date for our largest Skills Summit yet, this February 6-8 in Washington, DC.

- Connect with experts and practitioners from around the country to discuss regional strategies and data-driven best practices.
- Gain a deeper understanding of the climate on Capitol Hill regarding workforce initiatives and upcoming policy opportunities.
- Meet federal policymakers and share how workforce programs in your community give workers and industries the skills to compete.

Washington is looking for solutions. The skills agenda is one of them.

Workforce issues are one of few bipartisan efforts in today's Congress and training our workers is at the top of the list. The 2018 Skills Summit offers local practitioners the opportunity to come together and share their knowledge with policymakers during this key period.

The Skills Summit kicks off on Tuesday, February 6 with a diverse array of plenaries and breakout tracks on federal funding and policy, administrative priorities, and communications and advocacy tactics. It concludes on Thursday, February 8 with a full day of meetings with policymakers and staff on Capitol Hill.

Registration & Hotel

Registration will open in October with an early bird registration fee. The Skills Summit will be hosted at the historic Omni Shoreham Hotel.
