

NATIONAL SKILLS COALITION

Every worker. Every industry. A strong economy.

What industry-specific policies will we need in the future of work?

Last week we hosted the second in our There's more than one future of work event series. We were joined by industry leaders from Walmart, Toyota, Microsoft, and the Healthcare Career Advancement Project (HCAP) to discuss how new technologies will affect working people and businesses differently in different sectors, and what Washington can do to respond to these changes within and across industries.

If you weren't able to attend, make sure to watch the full discussion over on our Facebook page. Andy Van Kleunen, our CEO, and Daniel Bustillo from HCAP also co-authored a piece on some of these issues.
